VOLUME 26

In a time long ago when legends were passed by word of mouth, there was a great underwater city known as Nanterre.

How much longer do we have to pose?

The home of the Valiants

Our fearless fighters being bashful

How charming!

This fabled city was said to have the greatest beings on earth.

They were known as Valiants.

"Nothing's Going To Stop Us Now"

The 1987 Prom was held at the Ambassador Hotel on May 10, 1987. The night was filled with memories for everyone who attended. The theme, "Nothing's going to stop us now," was diffently lived up.

The most memorable highlight of the evening was when Katie Garcia was crowned the 1987 prom queen. Katie proudly accepted the crown of Nanterre. We would like to bid a fond farewell and thank you to all the former Nanterrians. A special thanks goes to Mr. Van. Without his help, this night could not have been so great.

Valiant Spirit Under The Sea

September 11, 1987 was the beginning of the Valiants showing their true spirit during the Holy Spirit Mass. This was the first Mass of the 1987 - 1988 school year. Fr. Mike gave his blessing to all of the Valiants with special emphasis on the athletes, cheerleaders, and the drill team. The Mass was an inspiration proving that this year would be full of spirit and good fortune for the Valiants.

Pope's First L.A. Visit

The Pope arrived on September 15, 1987, in L.A. This was his first visit to L.A. so this was a special event. Many students from St. Genevieve went to see Pope John Paul II at the parade. Pope John Paul II spoke to youth at the Universal Amphitheatre where Tony performed for him. At Dodger Statium the Pope offered Mass. Even if the Pope's visit was a short one, it was a great experience for everyone who got to see him either on T.V. or at another event.

Welcome New Nanterrians

On a warm, restless night, the 8th of September, there was a dance in honor of the newest citizens of Nanterre, the freshmen. Everyone was excited about going to this dance; waiting for that particular night was half of the excitement. No one was disappointed by what they encountered. The Disc Jockey's songs were great and the mood was just right, and even though it was hot and humid inside Madonna Hall, everyone still was continuously dancing throughout the night. Finally to our sudden dismay it was over. Thanks to the old Citizens of Nanterre, the seniors, the dance was a great success.

87-88 Fiesta A Success

This year's Fiesta was a tremendous success due to the dedication, hard work, and participation of our Valiant students and faculty members. The Valiants made a splash in participating in the dunk tank. Everyone enjoyed the Fiesta's large variety of rides and games. It was a time for making new friendships and renewing old ones.

Pep Mass "87"

"Through The Years"

On Thursday, November 12, our school had its annual Pep Mass. It was a joyous occasion as our school family joined together, in great spirit to celebrate this year's Homecoming, 1987. The Mass was led by the Liturgy Committee. Father Mike created a spiritual atmosphere as well as a bond that surrounded the entire ST. Genevieve community during the time of reliving the past and creating the future.

The Day Of Spirit And Pep

The 1987 Pep Week brought about true Valiant spirit and unity among all classes. We celebrated our 25th homecoming and mourned the departure of our football coach & P.E. teacher, Mr. Lindon Crow and our cheerleading moderator & typing teacher, Mrs. Sandy Crow. The excitement of Pep Week set the tone for our Homecoming Game and dance.

Homecoming Game

This year's Homecoming Game was held at Birmingham High School on November 14, 1987. The Valiants led our school to victory against the Cathedral Phantoms by a score of 22-9. This Homecoming Game was St. Genevieve's 25th Homecoming Anniversary, and we were proud to have 21 of our last 24 Homecoming Queens join us in our victory. This year's Homecoming Court was represented by five of our beautiful students. The members of the Court were: Lisa Quijada, Bonnie Frank, Jeanne Cadavona, Virginia Alonzo, and Annie Hernandez. The evening was topped when the Homecoming Queen of 1986, Veronica Fregoso, crowned the Homecoming Queen of 1987, Jeanne Cadavona.

Homecoming Dance

This year's Homecoming Dance was held on November 15, 1987. The theme was "Through the years". It proved to be a great success, thanks to Mr. Tom Meinert and the Student Council. During this special event last year's Homecoming Queen, Veronica Fregoso, crowned the new 1987 Homecoming Queen, Jeanne Cadavona. Special Congratulations go out to the Homecoming Court: Annie Hernandez, Lisa Quijada, Bonnie Frank, and Virginia Alonso.

Club Day Search For Fun!

This year's Club Day was held on September 30th, 1987. It was a very great success for many students. Various clubs displayed their activities to show the enthusiasm and spirit of the Valiants. Many of the clubs, such as the Liturgy Club, Science Club, Pep Club, Drama Club and Entertainment Units Club, were available for any student to sign up and join. The Valiant students showed their High School spirit, by joining various Clubs. This was a day of "Search for Fun."

Blood Drive

The blood drive for this year was a great success. It was moderated by Mr. Meinert, who did a very good job of getting both seniors and juniors to sign up and donate blood. Many faculty members also donated blood. Lisa, Bonnie, and Jennifer did an excellent job coordinating our blood drive. Thanks to all who donated blood to save lives.

Spiritual Growth In '87'-'88'

This year's retreats proved to be a spiritual enlightenment to those students who attended. The Senior Retreat took place at Wrightwood, and seniors stayed there for three days and two nights. The faculty retreat was held at the Holy Spirit Retreat House. Those teachers who attended had a wonderful time and experience. The junior retreat was also held at the Holy Spirit Retreat House. They also had an experience not soon to be forgotten.

Open House 1988

OPEN HOUSE, an annual St. Genevieve's ritual, took place on Sunday, Dec. 13, 1987. This tradition is to benefit the students and their parents who are in the process of deciding the high school of their choice. We open our doors and welcome the families to show off our St. Genevieve spirit and hospitality. The Entertainment Units pulled together a performance which demonstrated the spirit which we hold. As for the academic aspect, each department put on a presentation exhibiting highlights of the students' education. All and all, our potential was creatively displayed.

Pep Rallies

Once again the pep rallies were a tremendous success. With the vitality and enthusiasm of the Cheerleaders and the Entertainment Units as well as the great school spirit of the students, the pep rallies greatly improved school morale for all sports events. As always, the teachers were present to remind students that we here at St. Genevieve's are one family - a community of friends driven to support our teams to victory. Long live the Valiants!

Mock Trial: Our Lawyers!

This year's Mock Trial team was led by mr. Gilles.

The team had a good time; they had fun working together and also made new friends.

They worked very impressively as a team.

Next year we should have a team as good as this year's, and, hopefully, some of our members will return next year with the expertise they have gained.

Thanksgiving And Christmas Masses.

This year's Thanksgiving and Christmas Masses were a great success.

For the Thanksgiving Mass many students were thankful for the different things they had that were important in life. The whole school was also able to give food to the poor families and the homeless.

The Christmas Mass was also a great success. Special thanks to the letterman club for their efforts to collect and give food and toys to the poor and needy families. This showed how much generosity our school had for this year.

Valentine's Dance Best Of The West

Cupid's arrow hit St. Genevieve a day earlier this year. On February 13, 1988, we had our Valentine's Day Dance. The theme this year was "Best of the West" and it occurred at Madonna Hall. The entertainment was provided by Pro-Audio. Although it was not a formal dance this year, it was still provided with the usual spirit of romance on Valentine's.

This year's St. Valentine's Court was Erin O'Donoghue, Tina Sanchez, Carri Taggart, and Rosa Vasquez. This year our honored Queen was Erin O'Donoghue, a Senior, who was crowned by last year's Queen, Myra Salumbides.

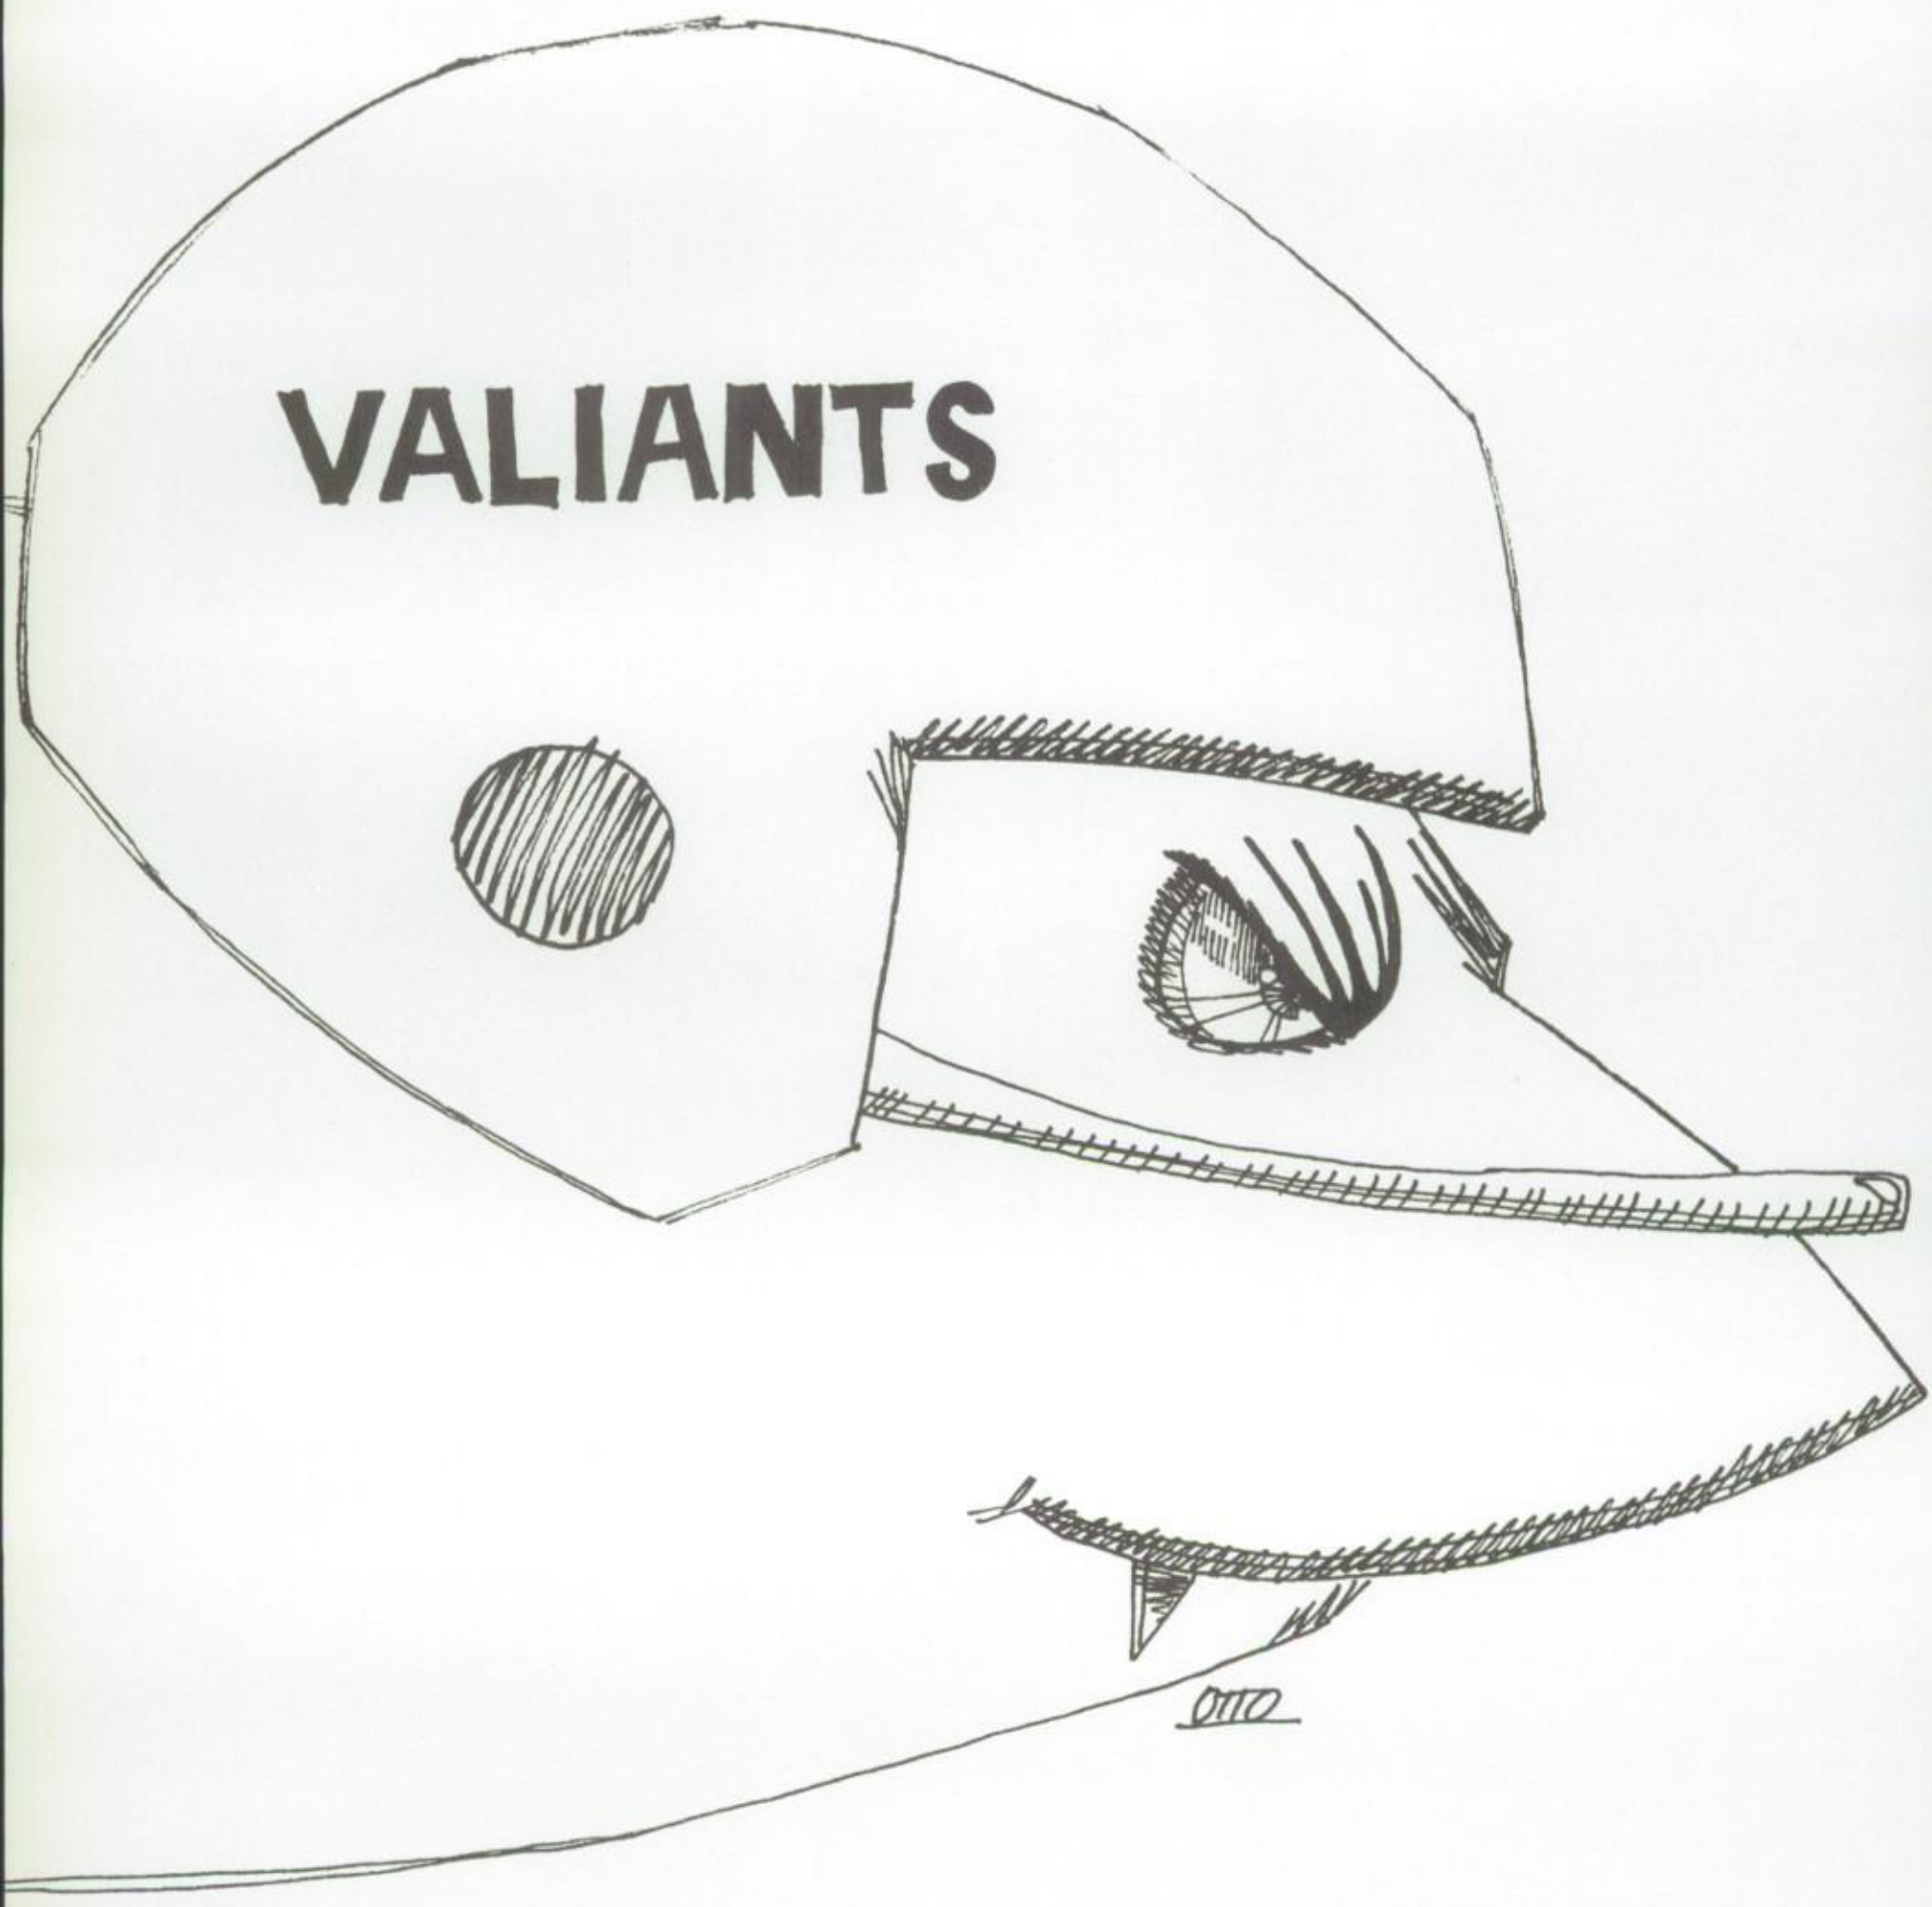
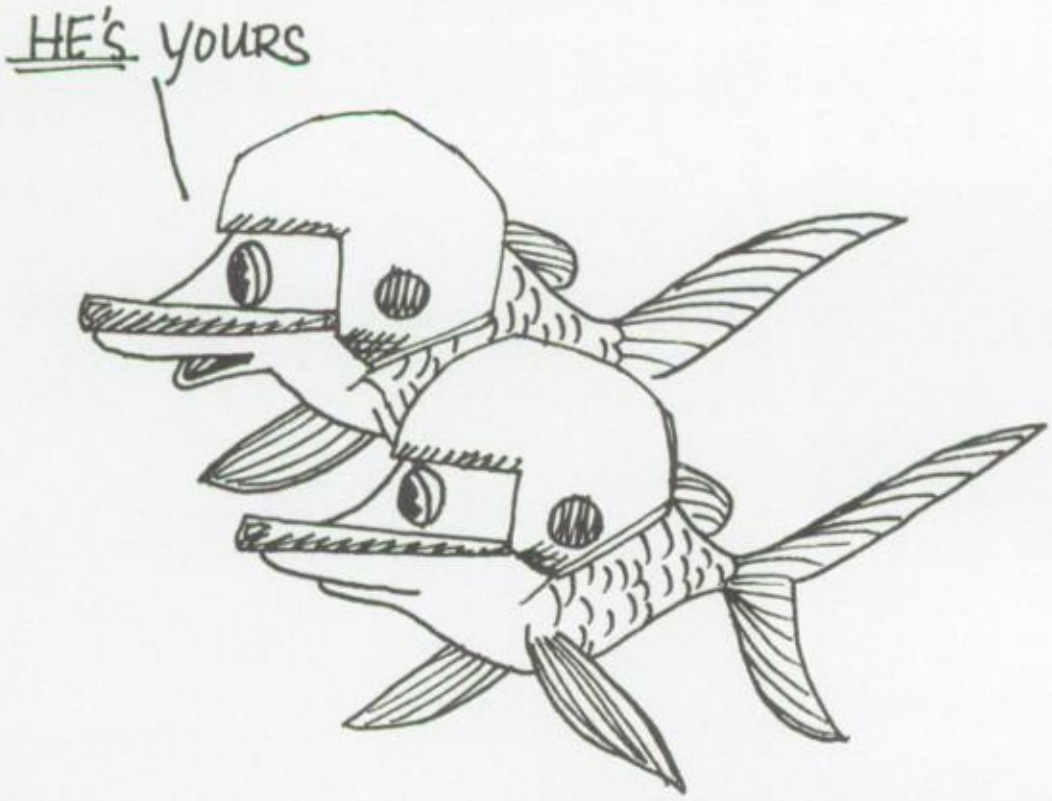
VALIANTS



Athletics



Varsity Football

This year's football team might not have won every game, but they surely worked hard to win. Thanks to Coach Lindon Crow, who won't be with us next year, for supporting the Valiants through thick and thin. Some players who deserve a lot of credit for their hard work on the team are Chad Russell, Al Hernandez, Carlos Garcia, Alfonso Gutierez, Frank Aguirre, Ruben Aguirre, Tony Pennachio, and Adam Barry. A senior of whom the coaches and players are especially proud is Leo Gullano, who is the academic player of the year. While making a fine contribution to the team, Leo maintained a 3.8 average.

Soccer Team . . . Giving It A Try

The St. Genevieve Valiants have a new team in the athletics department, the soccer team. The soccer team has been doing its best to prove that it is a worthwhile sport to watch and participate in. Players are paving the way for a great team by showing their Valiant pride.

The coach, Mr. Jim Grindey, is a great team director and has done a good job in organizing the team. Alfonso Gutierrez, the soccer team's captain, helps the team with showing true spirit.

This is a great beginning for our soccer team and a terrific way to lead the Valiants into next year's competition.

Boys' Varsity Volleyball

This year's St. Genevieve Varsity Volleyball Team performed exceedingly well. Their efforts paid of noticeably in their winning games. Coach Jane Po dolski, who has devoted much time to the team had led the team to many victories and taught them good sportsmanship.

The Team, with an unrelenting attitude towards victory, has given the opponents something to think twice about. Hopefully this spirit will be passed on to next year's team and they will also be successful

Boys J.V Volleyball

St. Genevieve High School has been trying to ex pand its athletic horizons. For the second year in row our Boys' J.V. Volleyball team has been worl ing hard to establish a name for when the tim comes for them to move up to the varsity level.

Coach Jane Podolski has worked the boys, bot J.V. and Varsity, hard to make them strong an confident to prepare themselves for this season an many seasons to come.

Lady Valiant Volleyball

The Girls' Varsity Volleyball Team once again had to start off with a new coach and a young, spirited team. Coach Mary Haynoski has worked hard organizing this strong team.

Due to many injuries that occurred during the pre-season games, the Lady Valiants were unable to hold down a steady first team. Consequently, the team had to keep their spirits high and fight for every match they played.

Diane Heffernan held a strong outside hitter's position and led the Valiants in having the most kills. Kathleen Soye and Nicole Smith provided solid blocks and great middle hitting. Bobbi, Jessie, Christina, Renee, Molly, Jennie, Vicki, and Mercedes supported the team with fine backrow passing and outside hitting.

Junior Varsity Volleyball

Our Junior Varsity Volleyball Team is composed of many freshmen and sophomores. This past season all players proved to their opponents that they may be small but they are powerful.

This is Coach Debbie Haynoski's first year at St. Genevieve's. She, too, has worked hard to get her team in shape not only physically but also mentally. Our J.V. Volleyball team has both spunk and charisma. They have shown considerable promise as they work their way up to the ever so competitive Varsity level.

Cross Country Run, Run, Run!

The 1987 Cross Country Team had a very exciting and competitive season this year. There were many new members on the team. All freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors were in the running team. With the help of Coach Dave Hoffman, the team did pretty well overall. Let's keep up the good work, and hope we have a good team next year, just as we did this year.

Boys' Varsity Basketball

The 1987-88 Boys' Varsity basketball team has been outstanding under the coaching of Mr. Hoffman. His captains, Michael Walker and Ruben Aguirre, along with Chad Russell, have led the Valiants to victory with the help of Marc Colon, Mike Cassidy, and Roland De la Maza.

Marc Colon and Ruben Aguirre played exceptionally well this season while the team as a whole showed their athletic abilities in both offense and defense. Congratulations on a season well played.

J.V. And Frosh Basketball

The J.V. Basketball team was led by Coach Jeff Sanderson, who coached his team to a productive season. The J.V. captains were Paul Zamora and Dara Kargari. The Varsity can look forward to an outstanding season with the J.V. team moving up next year.

This year the Freshman Basketball Team was coached by Coach Jack Sunderlik. The J.V. team for the coming year can expect a great season!

We owe all our success to the coaches and captains, not to mention the outstanding players . . . so from all of us . . . THANKS FOR A GREAT SEASON!

Lady Valiants In Action

The Girls' Varsity Basketball Team, coached by first year mentor Chris Harris, and led on the court by senior guard Diane Cameron and Jennie Holmes, had an exciting season in which great improvement was shown and valuable experience was gained. With the imminent return of a talented group of juniors, the Valiants have high hopes and great expectations for next season.

J.V. Girls' Basketball

The '87-'88 Girls' J.V. Basketball team went through a tremendous improvement in the games played this year. Coach Mary Haynoski, who is new at this school seemed pleased with the team's playing abilities. This year's team consisted of all freshmen with the exception of four sophomores. Even though it's the first year of active participation for all, this team is considered to be our best J.V. team in a long time.

J.V. Baseball

This year's J.V. Baseball team was a winning com bination. The team was comprised of the most ath letic, the most talented, and the most perserverin players that St. Genevieve had to offer with Sco Smith and Andy Slimak as coaches.

Although the opposing teams were very challeng ing, the Valiants were victorious in playing to th best of their ability especially as the season wer on. The team made the Valiants very proud as a ways and scored well with the fans.

1988 Varsity Softball Team

The 1988 Varsity Softball Team was coached this year by Mr. Jack Sunderlik, who is in his first year of coaching at St. Gen's. This year's team captains are Renee Baida and Diane Cameron, who have helped their teammates show excellent Valiant spirit. This year's team shows outstanding enthusiasm and teamwork. This along with support from their fans should lead the Valiants to victory and another exciting season.

Junior Varsity Softball

This year's Junior Varsity Softball Team was led by Coach Victor Perez. This is Coach Perez's first year here at St. Genevieve's. The girls worked very hard in preparation to reach the varsity level. Alison Rohner and Alison Foster were team captains. Not only were the Alisons outstanding leaders but also great players. The team itself came together to produce a victorious season.

Varsity Golf

The 1988 Golf team made it to the eighteenth hole with Senior, Jason Goode; Junior, Tim Gunther; Sophomore, Kevin Tremble; and Freshman Larry Tancreitor. Jason's father, Joe Goode, was their coach. Coach Goode's first year with the St. Genevieve Golf team was very difficult, but with much patience and inspiration he made our unusually small team a very big success. The team's efforts and dedication made this year a fun year and a victorious one.

1987-1988 Cheerleading Squads

Mrs. Crow was the 1987-1988 cheerleaders' moderator. The 1987-1988 cheerleading squads were quite memorable. Both the Varsity and J.V.'s attended cheerleading camp at Santa Barbara where the Varsity took a first place trophy and the coveted Spirit Stick. Through pep rallies, and spirited cheering at the games, the cheerleaders gave inspiration to all the teams. Captain Lisa Quijada and co-captain Bonnie Frank were at the helm and did a great job. The Pep Club Of '87-'88

The 1987-1988 Pep club has contributed to boosting the spirit of St. Genevieve High School. Currently the officers who lead the club consist of: Brigid Muller as President, Tara McCormack as Vice President, Nicole Smith as Secretary, Angie Lopez as Treasurer, and let us not forget the club moderator who stands for our school spirit — Mrs. Crow. The Pep Club has kept themselves occupied this year by putting together decorations of posters and banners for school events such as dances, games, and rallies.

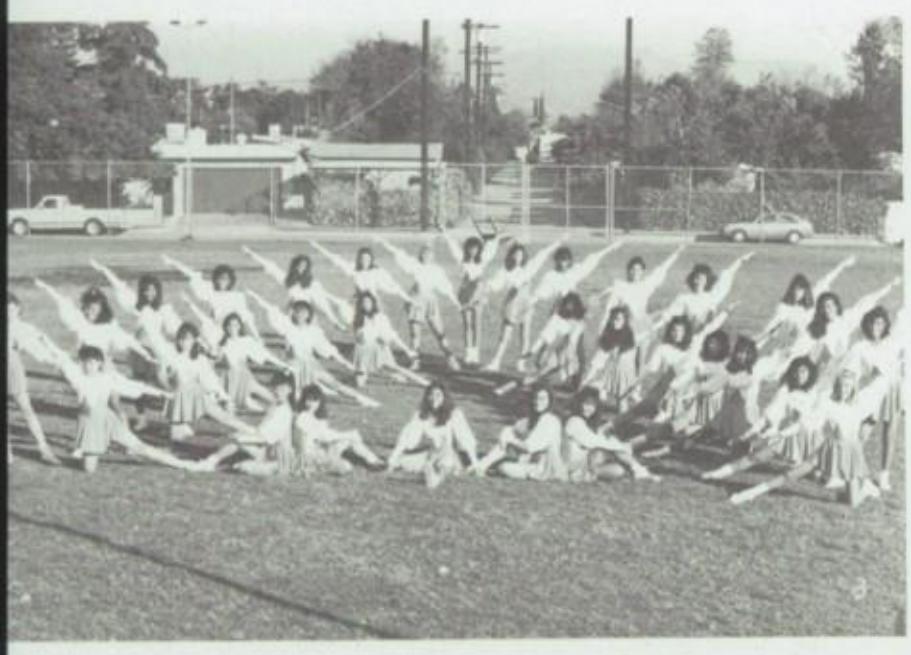
Entertainment By Nanterrians



This year's Entertainment Units looked spectacular with their new uniforms. They added a special touch to all football and basketball halftimes as well as the pep rallies. As part of being a year round group, they participated in parades where they performed very well.

They performed in competitions at Knottsberry Farm, Magic Mountain, and Universal Studios. To wrap up the year, the group put on an Entertainment Unit Show and then distributed awards to members. Altogether, the group showed exceptional talent and performed outstandingly the entire school year.

Student Council

This is the sixth year that Student Council has had class committees. The class committees are made up of six people from each class. These committees help out in many different events to make our school year more memorable for everyone. Mr. Meinert is the moderator and we thank him for all of his time and ideas. We really couldn't do it without him. This year's student council is made up of a great group of students. They are all really good leaders. The 1987-88 Student Council has led us through another successful year. We should all be proud of the wonderful job they have done.

Consistent Support From ASB

The 1987-'88 Student Council was headed by A.S.B. President Mike Walker, who really has done an outstanding job. Working very hard assisting Mike, is our Vice-President Annie Hernandez. Other officers helping to make our school a better place are: Club Commissioner, Melanie Esteban; Publicity Commissioner, Patti Ramirez; and our Campus Commissioner, Arnold Barba. Mr. Tom Meinert has led the Student Council through another successful year. The Student Council has worked very hard this year and we all should be very grateful for their consistent efforts.

This year's CSF Honor Society received an eager number of members. These members are from the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes. CSF members help and tutor those students who are failing or need help on their assignments for a particular class or classes and those students who are on academic probation. Each member is usually qualified to tutor in a number of subjects and only those students with a 3.5 grade point average who excel in each of their class studies, are eligible for membership.

This year's CSF Honor Society President wasAndy Lee. The Vice President was Kevin Brokowski, and the Club Treasurer was Erica Wrzesinski. Once again the club's Moderator was Sr. Eucharia.

Model United Nations

This year's Model United Nations has been going very well with Mr. Gilles as the moderator. He has put so much time and effort into this club! Mr. Gilles, with the help of Miss Hertan, took the Model U.N. to a conference in San Diego. They did very well against their fellow schools. Our team is planning a trip to Riverside for another conference in the second semester. We all should be very proud of the time and effort they put into the work for our school.

Christian Unity Club

Our Christian Unity Club was headed by Father Sintef and club president Cecelia Lee, both of whom we at St. Genevieve High School, thank a great deal for their achievements this year.

The Christian Unity Club was responsible for collecting canned foods to feed the poor and offer them a Happy Thanksgiving. The Thanksgiving project suprisingly fed more families than expected. The Unity Club was also responsible for forming a school choir that was very successful.

Retreat Team Works Together

This year's Retreat Team has been one of the best. Fr. Mike and members of the Retreat Team organized the retreats.

St. Genevieve had very successful retreats for all classes. The Seniors went to Wrightwood for two fun and spiritual retreats.

The Juniors went to the Holy Spirit retreat House for spiritual guidance.

We hope next year, we will have more great retreats.

Thanks to Fr. Mike and the retreat members for doing an outstanding job in planning and organizing all retreats.

Our Fantastic Lettermen

The 1987-88 Lettermen's Club moderator Mr. Harris. He has really organized these students. The President of the Lettermen's Club Tony Pennacchio. This year's club has sponsored our Christmas food and toy drive. With the help of everyone it turned out to be a great success. The food was able to feed many families. All of these students show a great deal of respect and sportmanslike conduct.

Student Services Of The Sea

This year's Student Services are headed by a great group of people.

In our counseling department we have Fred D'Astoli and Christine Thranow, personal counselors, Fr. Mike Campus Minister, and Charlene Feeney, guidance counselor.

Our library is headed by Sr. Francis, who does an excellent job keeping it orderly. In our attendance office Sr. Mary Helen keeps track of records.

The cafeteria is kept running smoothly by the hard work of Mary Giampoli, and the school grounds are kept up by Juan.

Let us never forget the hard work of Dorothy Alexis, Audrey Kent, and Mary Ruggiero who keep the business office in order. Special thanks goes to all involved in our Student Services.

Fine Arts Department

This year the Fine Arts Department was again headed by Mrs. Patten and Mrs. Main. We thank them for contributing all their creative and artistic talents to the department.

In the Art classes, students have a chance to expand their imaginations and search for their hidden talents. Skills are taught and future artists are formed. The classes abound with creativity in the development of young new artists. The Art Department has nurtured many aspiring students into serious creators who've gone on to bigger things.

St. Genevieve H.S. is lucky to have such a great religion department this year. We have a new member on our staff, Mr. Grindy, who teaches freshmen. The other members of the religion department include Mr. Trujillo, Sister Maria Goretti, Mr. Badilla, Miss Mattera, Mr. Meinert, and, last but not least, Fr. Mike.

The Religion staff is very important to all the students in our school since religion is the major subject we all learn.

Miss Mattera is the head of the Religion Department.

Yearbook Comes Through Again!

This year, Mrs. Patten, in her seventh year as yearbook moderator, did a superb job leading the staff to another successful accomplishment. Through Mrs. Patten's guidance, the 1987-1988 Yearbook Staff did a great job preparing a successful yearbook by capturing our school spirit in the pages. Each member of the staff worked together to meet the deadlines, so they could produce the tremendous book they did . . . Nanterian '88!

On the Telephone

The comforting deepness of your voice
On the telephone
Brings back bittersweet memories
Of how we once were
And how I wish it could always have been.
I long for you,
The smile that brightens your face,
And the soft caress of your loving words.
I wish for the love
That you so willingly gave
And I,
So greedily grabbed.

If only . . .
We could dance together
In the night,
All our pain and sorrow
Could be washed away,
And the love we once shared might be restored.

Devotions

God, bless my life.
Jesus, bless my endurance.
Mary, help me conquer my sinning.
St. Joseph, help my faith.
St. Michael the Archangel, give me strength -both mental and physical.
St. Patrick, bless by eloquence and chance.
St. Jude, help me in impossible situations.
St. Valentine, bless my heart and my love.
St. Anthony, help my searching desires.
Robert Svolos, help my life — choosing, waiting, living.
Mary, bless my maturity.
Grandpa Mac, bless my humor.
Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, help my baseball.
St. Jeremiah, give me enduring faith.
St. Francis of Assisi, bless my patience and help me control my temperamental feelings.
St. Peter, build my foundation.

Lord, unite these virtues into one blessing and bestow that blessing upon me, both day and night, now and at the hour of my death.
I love you.

Amen.

Onward March

Sometimes the days are so complex,
I wonder what to do.
I feel as if my life's a hex
And all because of you.
We must decide our course in life
And keep our path in mind.
Be ever moving past our strife
And savor what we find.

Lafayette

The person that I have been with all my life is Lafayette. Lafayette is the most loving, caring, and understandable character that I ever met. I admire him and I am proud of him.

Lafayette is only slightly above five feet tall but sometimes wishes that he were around five feet, nine inches so that he could participate in sports. He is also a little overweight for his age but hopes that he will lose those pounds during the summer time. He has black short hair and brown eyes. He looks rather cute.

In school, Lafayette is among the forty or so top students in his class. He has had an average of 3.5 throughout his first three years in high-school. His favorite subjects include math and English. At school, he is very shy and quiet. He talks only of subjects like sports and school. He has been picked on a couple of times during lunch, when his friends or lunch buddies call him "Tattoo," referring to the long television show Fantasy Island. He usually does not say anything back, but instead he just ignores them.

But when he is at home, he is a different person. He leaves his school character behind him and acts totally opposite. He has one of the big mouths in the family and is not shy. He respects his elders, but he is not too shy to ask anything. When one of his brothers calls him something that he does not like, he retaliates by saying something back that his brothers do not like. His hobbies include collecting baseball cards, listening to music, and watching television, especially sports. His favorite television shows include The Cosby Show, Who's the Boss, Moonlighting, and Jeopardy.

I have been in touch with him lately and hope that he will someday go to a good university and pursue his dream as a surgeon and make a large amount of money. He dreams of becoming rich and traveling around the world, especially of going back to his hometown in the Phillippines. I like him very much . . . you see, I'm Lafayette.

Chemicals

How did I lose it all?
I didn't think I'd fall.
I tried it just one time,
It wasn't such a crime.
Somehow it drew me in,
I'd ne'er get back again.
It had a hold on me,
I never would get free.
But was it really bad?
It didn't make me sad.
It treated me so kind,
I didn't need my mind.
What used to be my friend
Has brought me to the end.

Dreams

We all have longings in our life
Whatever they may be —
To get a husband or a wife
And then a family.
We work for dollars and success
And hope joy comes our way
But then to find true happiness
We only need to pray.

Come

If you ever feel tired,
or lonely,
or frustrated,
Come, rest in my arms;
Come, lay your head on my chest,
For I love you.
If you ever feel you can't go on,
or that you want to give up,
or have been rejected,
Come, look into my eyes;
Come, hide in my heart,
For I love you,
If you ever need to be accepted,
or loved,
or praised,
Come, share in my life;
Come, live in my laughter,
For I love you.

After the End

He walked on the beach. A mighty wind swept over the waters. There was something different about the place. It wasn't just that it was quiet; the silence was lined with an unspeakable something.

He looked around and saw the beach engulfed in darkness. The stars and the moon still twinkled in the firmament. The sky looked like any other dawn. A grey crept over the horizon followed by a lighter grey. In turn, colors crawled out — white, yellow, orange, and finally, the sun. It was red in all its fiery temper.

He kept on walking to a park. Swings, see-saws, and slides stared from their sandy homes. He could almost hear the children's laughter, but no one was there. Even the pigeons were gone.

He walked again and reached a gigantic black crater in the middle of a desert. It was a vast wasteland. He was alone with the sun and the emptiness. Something strange was in the air. The desert had no vegetation, not even cacti.

He walked on to the mountain. It stood unmoved. Facing the mountain, He stopped.

"Evening came and morning followed" — the Last Day. In the end, there had been light. God saw that it was bad.

A Ship and His Friend

A friend is like a man who finds
A tiny ship in a vast ocean.
He will come aboard and live inside.
He will establish ties and remain.
A friend knows when to wake and walk the decks of the ship;
But he also knows when to sleep and be quiet.
He knows when to laugh and when to cry.
A friend can sense damage even when no physical signs are present.
He can repair the largest hole.
He will always be there to guide the ship
And make sure it never sails the seas alone.

Leaving Memories Behind

The tall tree-
It has been there for so long.
It has seen so much,
Heard too many things,
Things I want it to forget,
Things that I want to forget.
But as we both grow older
These things become less important.
The tall tree still stands,
Listens,
Watches,
Remembers.

Relief

Today I have to take a test;
I hope that I will pass;
The teacher said to do my best
In her own English class.

I pray I'll make it through the day;
I feared it was too late;
But then I heard that SAC did say,
"Next week, - I changed the date."

Snowskiing

The snow was so cold and the sun was so bright.
I shivered with fear, I was so full of fright.
What was I to do, for I was quite confused?
I knew I would fall and they would be amused.

I tried to act cool-like I knew what to do;
The girls were so cute I just had to grin, too.
They had so I saw, such adorable clothes;
While I only let the sun burn on my nose.

Once up on the slopes I began to feel good.
Although, just my luck, I had not understood
Quite how to slow down or, in my case, to stop.
I ran smack dab into a ski-patrol cop.

He thought I was drunk but that wasn't the case.
According to him, I had won some big race.
Right after that mess I was off on my way,
Except for the fact that my friends were away.

So now that I'm skiing I see such a sight:
A girl that has fallen is holding on tight.
Here comes Mr. Hero to fly her away.
I try to be helpful, but there goes the day!

I started to help her, to use my sweet charm;
'Twas then that I messed up and grabbed her right arm.
I fell very hard and that hurt quite a lot;
My rear was in pain, and my ego was shot.

I was quite embarassed, but she was so nice;
We both were so cold with our clothes full of ice.
I still do remember that girl as my friend;
We're married-and I think that that's quite an end.

A Good Thing To Pursue in Life

A good thing to pursue in life
Would be a "mankind-peace"
To end the mis'ry and the strife
That threatens our world's lease.

For if we don't attempt to try
To follow Christ the Son
Then earth will drown in sin and die
And Satan will have won.

Lost . . . A Friendship

I had a really nice friend once.
We started to get to know each other a little better.
We had a great time, but something was missing.
I didn't know what it was
Until that friendship was nearly destroyed.

We both went our separate ways for some time.
Now, since our retreat, we've seemed to salvage something
From the lost friendship
That had "ended" eight months before.

Now when we see each other
We smile, but it's not the same.
I already had lost a really nice friend.

Warming my soul,
I have nothing but
Happiness - joy is my goal.
Peace and Love -
I'm in control!

"I Want Off"

Life's like a great big carousel,
A fast and spinning ride.
At ends at heaven or at hell
From this one can not hide

And now I'd like to leave this life
To get my balance back-
Just leave the hardships and the strife
And get my soul on track.

Castle of Sand

The little boy took his bucket down to the beach.
Foaming at the mouth,
the wave lashed its tongue at his tiny toes.
He only giggled,
and ran away playfully.

Then,
the little boy sat in the sand,
and started to build himself a magnificent home.
Bucket by bucket,
his castle came to life.
There was a little drawbridge,
and towers of styrofoam cups.
Toothpick flags decorated the towers.
It was the prettiest house around . . .
Suddenly,
the roaring sea swallowed the house.

All dreams are eventually washed away.

-Cecilia Lee, '88

In Loving Memory of My Grandmother

The coldness of her face.
Endless stillness encumbered
Her body. I felt no joy. Her Morbid state filled the air. She Lay there. No pain, Her face
Relaxed, her eyes shut, the pink
Of life drained from her ancient Countenance. Uncomfortable life about.
Why uncomfortable?
Should I be rejoicing her re-birth?
My celebration ends quickly.
I plead: Why her? Could she be happy?
Sure am I that she is.
Her love is found.
A year of waiting - now reunited.
For this I am glad. Her suffering
Has ended while ours continues.
We suffer in this pit of low fire.
Striving to join the never-ending
Daylight.
Will not she live
As long as her memory? Memory of Days in the fields she and I spent.
Picking the luscious fruit from
Now worthless bushes.
His Birthday Among All we spent
Together. The nights of learning.
The days of loving. The summers of Living. Ended . . . only by this.
But for her, - I'll be shel Peaceful.
Ending fights with loving looks.
Teaching in her mystic ways. Loving
With the ease of gods . . . it will not
End, for she shall live on forever
In me!

The Beach

Tingling, tangy, salty drops of sweat

run
run down

a child's face.
The hot red face
is brightened by a big, bright, blue beach ball.

His sun-burned feet

VICIOUSLY

kick up tons and tons
of sand, while he plays.
Does that seem fun?

Prosciutto, Plums, and Pasquale

The narrow, cobble-stoned streets are bustling with life. Merchants have their carts set up. It's Mercado today. The humid August day is beautiful. The sun is high, and there are stretched cotton clouds hovering about. All of the smells of the season are floating in the air. I can smell prosciutto, plums, and lemons. That means that the gelatiero is coming. My mouth is dry and so I go to buy a granita, - lemon, of course. As I start to eat it, it starts to melt and the frozen lemonade is sticking by the time it runs onto my hand.

I start to walk, but before I can get even a few feet from where I started, a bright red flash almost runs me down. It is only one of my school friends, Pasquale, on his red scooter. He is tall, muscular, and his green eyes have always been amusing to me, the way that they sparkle in the sun, and the way that they are always wet from laughing. His hair is black with hundreds of waves that always seem to fall into place totally framing his face like a shawl that has been draped gently over an old woman's shoulders.

As I walk on, I see the cathedral; it is very old and the gray stone-carved walls seem to know everything. I walk inside where it is very cool and peaceful. The statues of the many saints are almost alive. They are always reaching out with their clear eyes which can see to the center of things. The carpet is red and, as it winds up the aisle, it seems to be a pathway straight to heaven.

I leave and walk down to the beach. I step onto the white, wet, warm sand which squishes between my toes. As I walk along the coast, the foamy water races to meet me at the edge. The seagulls flying overhead are graceful, and as they make their perfunctory dives for food, they come and say hello to me with their calls, and they wave good-bye to me with their wings. This is my town in August, -hot, lively, and colorful. This is Napoli.

-Teresa Izzo, '88

Wedding Day

You start to walk toward the church aisle,
You hear the organ play.
You re'lize that it's all worthwhile,
You've waited for this day.
You see her walking to you now,
You can't believe it's true.
Now all that's left are wedding vows,
And finally, "I do!'

-Timothy Petlin, '88

Daniel Enriquez, '88

Valedictorian

There was a time when I did doubt
If I had brains to make
It to the top. My first years out,
Were not "a piece of cake."
But now the work is almost done.
As Senior year comes near . . .
That goal of reaching Number One
Becomes so very dear.

In The End Jacque Succeeded In Finding The Lost City Of Nanterre.

Junior friendship

Freshmen are Number One ... Two, Three

The K's and a C

"I'm a wild and crazy guy."

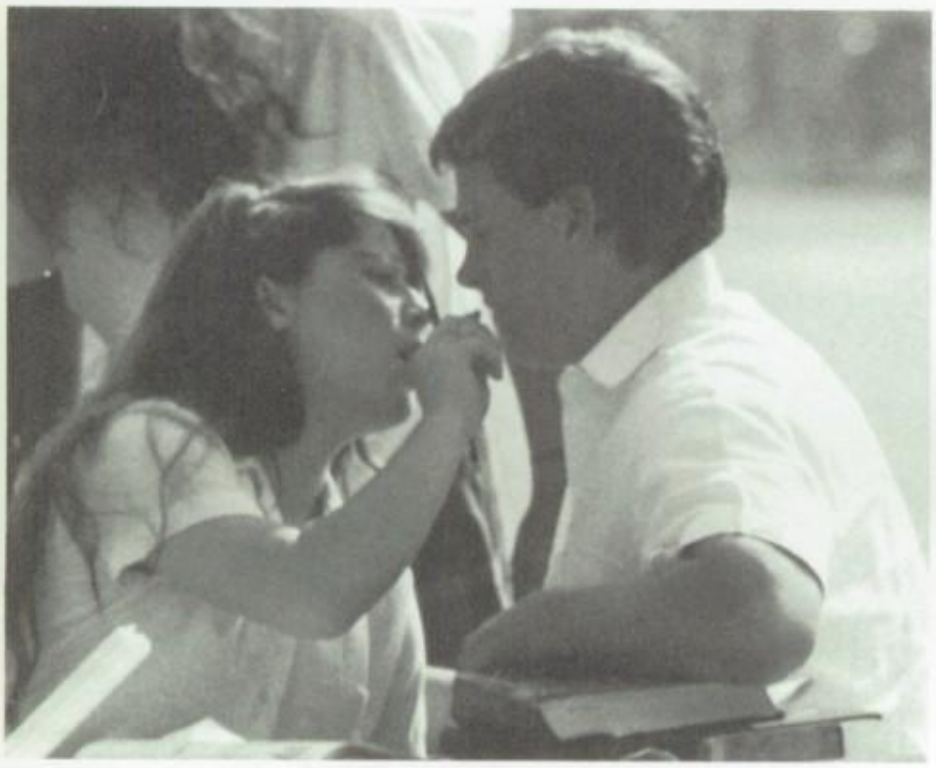
Senior spirit and courage

Freshmen are Number One????

Citizens of Nanterre

He Found That It Was A Civilization Full Of Spirit And Courage.

These Qualities Shone Bright In The Actions And Achievements Of The Honored Citizens.



Is that a cavity, Mike?

Those must be Sophomores!

See what I learned today!

These are my babes!

Lunch time giggles

Buddies and old pals

"Happy Birthday to you!"

Qualities that are rare

Jacque Saw That Each And Every One Of Them Was Caring Towards Those Who Were Poor And In Need Of Help.

These Citizens Were People Who Shared The Benefits And Advantages They Had With People Who Were Less Fortunate.

Citizens of Nanterre

Cute Freshmen

Posers posing

"Did you know that . . .?"

They Shared These Outside The Nanterrian Community, Especially During Holidays That Celebrated Being Thankful For Food And Times Of Giving Presents To One Another.

A Coke and some smiles

Come on-show those teeth!

–Jacque Concluded That With All These Characteristics The City Of Nanterre And All Its Citizens Were Very Loving People.

True friends

The Junior Bunch

Yes, Sr. Paula

I can't breathe

Students full of Pep!

How Charming!

–Knowing All Of This Gave Jacque A True Sense Of Victory In Finding A Treasure Worth Far More Than Any Riches In All The World.

Advisor's Page

As another school year passes, another Yearbook is produced. We realize that the year's events are becoming blurred images in our minds. This book—Nanterrian '88—will preserve these memories of special, not-to-be forgotten times. We will remember the people, places, and events when we look back through the pages of this book. Nanterrian '88 will serve as a memory album of these shared times.

The 1988 Yearbook staff would like to thank the following people for their cooperation and assistance in making Nanterrian '88 a success:

Our Principal, Mr. Rudy Trujillo, the administration, and the faculty for their guidance and support
Our Josten's American Yearbook Representative, Mr. Paul Collins, for his constant help
The Portrait Gallery, for their professional photographic help
Our photographers, Carol Helm, Tim Gunther, Edith Moya, and Beth Restrepo, who contributed much of their time and photographic efforts to make our yearbook successful
Our Yearbook Artist, Otto Sturcke, who creatively designed the cover, end sheets, autograph pages, and all the division pages.
Sister Angela Clare, who again proofread and finalized all copy to ensure a quality book, and
Our sponsors, advertisers, and parents for their continued support.

Mrs. Nancy Patten
